

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

August 3, 2005

News Release

JAMAICAN RECEIVES 46 MONTHS FOR ILLEGALLY RE-ENTERING THE U.S. AFTER BEING DEPORTED

NEW HAVEN, CT—Kevin J. O'Connor, United States Attorney for the District of Connecticut, announced Friday that Wayne Orville Williams, 37, was sentenced by United States District Judge Janet B. Arterton to 46 months of imprisonment for re-entering the United States subsequent to his deportation to Jamaica on or about July 10, 2001.

On April 5, 2005, Williams pleaded guilty to an Indictment charging him with the offense. Williams is again subject to deportation following service of his term of imprisonment.

According to documents filed with the Court, on or about August 11, 2004, Williams was found in East Hartford, Conn., having re-entered the United States illegally.

This case was investigated by special agents of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) under the Department of Homeland Security and members of the Drug enforcement Administration Task Force, which includes members of the East Hartford Police Department.

This case was prosecuted by Assistant United States Attorney Krishna R. Patel.

ICE

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement was established in March 2003 as the largest investigative arm of the Department of Homeland Security. ICE is comprised of five integrated divisions that form a 21st century law enforcement agency with broad responsibilities for a number of key homeland security priorities.